Administrative Activities	Hiring, training, volunteer coordination, staff assessment and all administrative duties.		Administrative functions continue to be maintained, fulfilled and further enhanced through the use of a secure client relationship management system and stringent protocols. Director also continues to successfully coordinate staff activities and guidance towards effective maintenance of the center. She also screens applicants for financial assistance and monitors client progress in our education program.
Outreach	Activities will Include: Advertising and publicity ventures Community education and contact activities Efforts at increasing capacity		We are slowing getting our outreach up and running. We have visited some local agencies with our new brochures. We have also started a parenting blog on our website to get people more aware of our programs.
Car Seat Program	Enroll participants into Learn & Earn Program (clients earn credits to obtain a car seat). Provide car seat education Provide certified car seat	12	The car seat program continues to be a very important part of our Learn & Earn Program. Clients are engaged in learning about car seat safety and must demonstrate their ability to safely secure their child and install the car seat in a vehicle. We now have two certified car seat technicians on staff to allow for more clients to	30

Crib Distribution/ Sleep Safety Education	Enroll participants into the Learn & Earn Program, clients earn credits by participation in program Provide client with Pack-N-Play and Safe Sleep Education	12	The Safe Sleep classes offered at our center continue to be an asset to our clients. Program participants have been informed of importance of safe sleep and are quite receptive to the information we provide. Clients are able to demonstrate proper safe sleep environments for their babies using the pack-n-play provided by our center. With this program we have noticed that participants are coming back to ask additional questions regarding safe sleep.	40
Life-Skills Education Program	Enroll participants into the Well Life Program by completing Intake process. Educate participants through videos, demonstration, worksheets and group discussion regarding topics related to life skills which include budgeting, cooking, apartment searching, fitness, mental wellbeing, job searching and interviewing skills and relationship building.	8	The Well Life Program was recently launched by our center and provides a forum for learning, discussion and personal development. At each session clients are encouraged to work on personal goals and learn about different maternal wellness and life skills topics. Guest Educators are present at every session to offer their specialized knowledge on these topics. Thus far clients have learned about Goal Setting, Self Care, Postpartum Depression, Healthy Relationships, Job Searching, Interviewing and Resume Building, Infant Bonding, Cooking Healthy Meals, Childhood Nutrition & Shopping Smart. We will also be offering classes in Budgeting, Fitness, Going Back to School, and Independent Living in the next few months. We have received positive feedback from clients about the content and vision of the program.	10
Nutrition	Enroll participants into the Learn and Earn Program by completing Intake process. Educate participants through videos, demonstration and worksheets regarding nutrition and other topics related to healthy eating for mother and child. Provide baby equipment, diapers	25	The nutrition education program continues to make an impact through increasing awareness and discussions regarding baby and family health. Nutrition is the first educational topic presented to clients so they can make good choices about their nutrition to ensure a healthy pregnancy. Participants also participate in childhood nutrition sessions so they can make proper nutritional choices for their children.	46
